

WHO'S WHO?

Visions of Choice

Visions of Choice is a REACH Foundation marketing campaign that highlights families from all across the Commonwealth who are exercising their right to choose the school that best fits their child's educational needs. The following Visions of Choice students, who attend school because of the EITC Program, are VIP guests at the Birthday Party today:

Ashley LaTorre – Philadelphia, PA
Scott Bui – Philadelphia, PA
Ryan and Kyle Wiesenbergs – Philadelphia, PA
Abbi DiTonno – Harrisburg, PA
Tyrece, Tiara and Tamal Little – Harrisburg, PA

Philadelphia Black Alliance for Educational Options

Philadelphia BAEO's mission is to actively support parental choice to empower families and increase quality educational options for Black children. BAEO educates parents about educational options available to them in Philadelphia, engages parents in all aspects of their child's educational process and empowers parents to make informed choices about the education of their children. Philadelphia BAEO has been a scholarship organization with the EITC Program since the Program's inception in 2001.

BAEO is showing their support for the EITC by bringing 15 buses of students to the Party. The 900 students will be marching around downtown Harrisburg immediately prior to the Party starting. This is the most students ever brought by one organization to the EITC Party.

Spruce Hill Christian School

Spruce Hill Christian School is a K-8 school located in the University City area of Philadelphia. We partner with parents to provide a safe, nurturing environment where academic excellence is pursued with creativity and integrity for each child, biblical principles direct all aspects of our school's relationships and practices and the rich cultural, ethnic and racial diversity of our city is treasured and enjoyed.

The Spruce Hill vocal ensemble will be singing the National Anthem and 'Happy Birthday.' The choir is under the direction of Ruth Naomi Floyd.
